

APPLICATIONS/NOMINATIONS ARE INVITED FOR THE POST OF DIRECTOR, INSTITUTE FOR STEM CELL SCIENCE AND REGENERATIVE MEDICINE (DBT-inStem)
BANGALORE, KARNATAKA STATE, INDIA

1. The Institute for Stem Cell Science and Regenerative Medicine (DBT-inStem), an Autonomous Institute of the Department of Biotechnology, Government of India was established in 2009, and is located in the GKVK Campus, Bengaluru. The Centre for Stem Cell Research (CSCR) is the clinical translational unit of inStem, in partnership with and located at CMC Vellore, Tamil Nadu. InStem's core mandate is to establish collaborative research programs tackling major questions in stem cell biology and regeneration with disease relevance and translational emphasis. inStem has established well-defined thematic research structures, comprising teams of investigators to collectively address complex problems of biology in the context of tissue repair following injury and inflammation, brain disorders, cardiac disease, metabolic regulation of cell function and a dedicated programme on chemical approaches aiding discovery injury repair. Today, the Institute's ~15 research groups (set to grow further), operate in major thematic programs. Commitment to the development of translational capabilities through programmatic partnerships with universities, research institutes, clinicians and industry as well as the establishment of platform technologies and development of sophisticated technical capabilities, enabling endeavours across themes, are major thrusts of our efforts. inStem shares a campus and core facilities with the National Centre of Biological Sciences (NCBS, TIFR) and the Centre for Cellular and Molecular Platform (C-CAMP), which together comprise the Bangalore Life Science Cluster. inStem's investigators partner with international collaborators for specific projects of joint interest. Through these partnerships, the Institute has developed a strong research foundation with state-of-the-art facilities to attract investigators to its theme-driven, interconnected network of research programs.
